MARION COLLEGE
THE HATCHET
1967

We now invite you to walk with us, in memory, down a road which we never again shall tread —

Through the years there have been many changes in the life of Marion College. In 1922 the Yearbook's name was changed to THE HATCHET symbolizing a break from the past. Again this year there was a break from the past. With our new administration, new rules, and new ideas, we began a year which will never be forgotten.

The autumn brought forth frantic freshmen wandering about in a new and different world and returning students amazed at the changes made since the end of their freshman year.

Autumn slipped into winter and again the students were faced with changes in Marion College life. There were many surprises which the freshman found in store for them.

Spring, triumphant over the dark depressing days of winter, created a new insight in our world at Marion College. The tragedy of this world came when it was announced that the doors of Marion College would close temporarily. However the spirit involved in Marion College students was revived and everyone looked toward a more promising future. Our last May Day was changed to graduation week-end so that there would be a "jammed packed" week-end to remember.

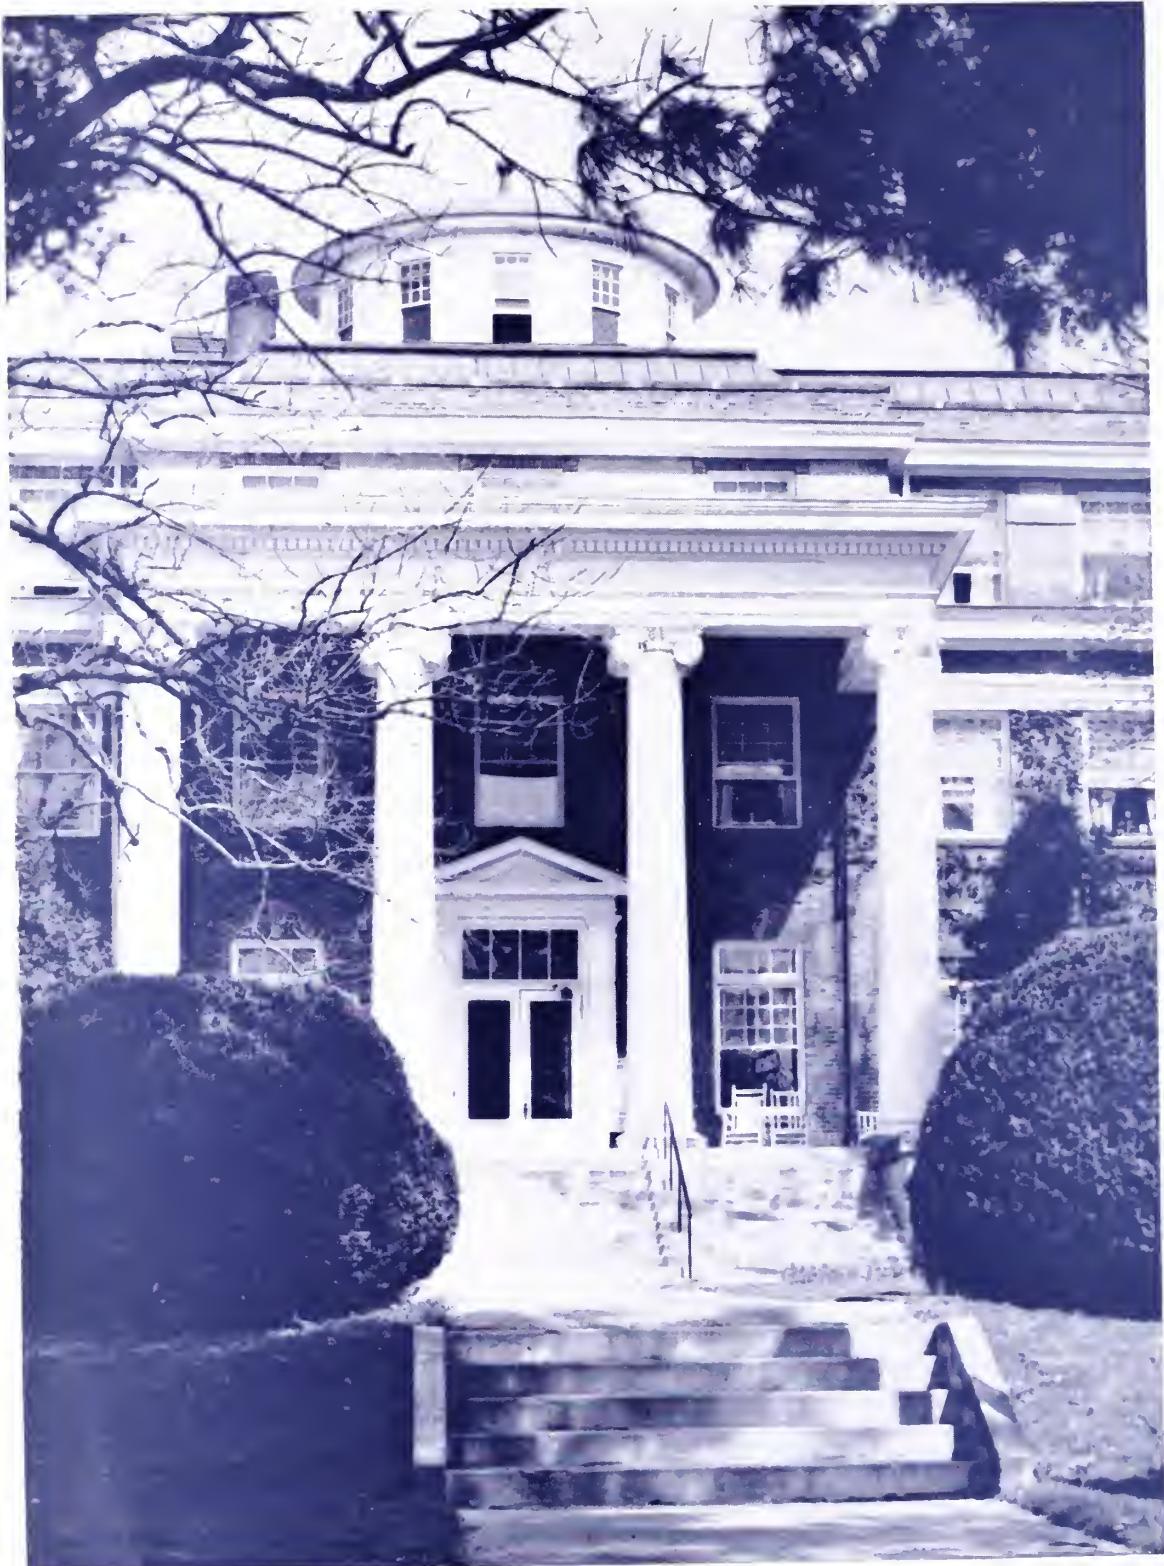

The last graduation will be engraved upon the hearts of all those who have attended Marion College and the friends found here will be remembered throughout all the years of our lives.

To you, the students of Marion College we present the 1967 HATCHET hoping you will treasure it always. It is a book that has been carefully planned and studied to impress upon you how the times are changing.

THE COLLEGE

"And though you be done to death, what then?
If you battled the best you could;
If you played your part in the world of men.
Why, the Critic will call it good.
Death comes with a crawl, or comes with a pounce,
And whether he's slow or spry,
It isn't the fact that you're dead that counts,
But only, how did you die?"

— E. V. COOKE

Come gather 'round people
wherever you roam
And admit that the waters
around you have grown
And accept it that soon
you'll be drenched to the bone,
If your time to you is worth savin'
Then you better start
swimmin' or you'll sink
like a stone,
For THE TIMES THEY ARE A-CHANGIN'!

MR. THOMAS W. WEST

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The heart of Marion has been sound academic training in a wholesome Christian environment directed at developing the individual's total personality and unique pattern of life. The 94th year of the institution began with hopes and aspirations for growth and development and now ends with the decision to cease operation temporarily. Although saddened that this may be the final year for the college, we realize its impact on society will continue to be felt as long as each of us strives to live our life to the fullest in the context of the Marion Ideal.

It truly has been a memorable year. Cherish it!

DEDICATION

MISS EDITH G. HOOVER

Your guidance and knowledge have led you to be respected highly among us all. The long hours you have faithfully served each day, finding the proper program for each student, has won you a place in our hearts. Through your classes you have given us a challenge to find things out for ourselves rather than handing ideas to us. We shall always remember you as one of the major forces in the stepping stones of our educational life. These memories shall linger with us until the end of time.

During your life and work at Marion College you have seen many changes take place—changes to which you adapted yourself without trouble.

For her faithful service and unending work as a registrar, teacher, and friend, we the editors of the 1967 HATCHET dedicate this yearbook to the Spirit of Marion College, Miss Edith G. Hoover.

*Come writers and critics
Who prophesies with your pen
And keep your eyes wide
The chance won't come again.
And don't speak too soon
For the wheel's still in spin
And there's no tellin' who
That it's namin'*

Message from the Editor

The 94th year of Marion College has been a memorable one. There have been many memories created here that can never be taken away. In planning and putting together a yearbook, one must try to capture these memories into a book filled with remembrances of the school year. The editors and staff have put a lot of work into our yearbook. It is my hope that each of you will discover various things to be remembered in the 1967 HATCHET. If you find these memories, the purpose of the 1967 HATCHET has been fulfilled.

The Honor Court

"To thine own self be true, and it must follow as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man." Shakespeare has here captured the essence of the honor code.

The Honor Court seeks to uphold the Marion College ideal and is concerned basically with the academic phase of student life.

The Honor Court feels that honor and self-respect are indispensable qualifications for a successful person. It is for this reason that the Honor Court strives to uphold the honor code of Marion College.

The Standards symbolized by the Greek letters are wisdom, aspiration, and purity. "The purpose of the society is to promote scholarship, to develop character and to cultivate fellowship among the students of both sexes of the junior colleges of the United States."

The society symbolizes an intellectual accomplishment. To encourage the scholarly atmosphere of the college and to aid in any possible way the growth of the academic standards is the students' purpose.

Some of the activities during the year are tapping, initiation, and a tea honoring new members.

The Student Council

The Student Government Association, through its Student Council and Honor Court, works in close co-operation with the Administration in maintaining standards of honesty, courtesy, and co-operation among the students. It reserves the right to discipline or refer to the college administration any student whose conduct or spirit is out of harmony with the standards set by the Association and the college administration, or whose influence is felt to be harmful to the best interests of the college community.

All students at Marion College are members of the Student Government Association and share its obligations as well as its privileges. Your student government earnestly solicits your co-operation in upholding the Marion Ideal.

The Student Council holds regularly scheduled weekly meetings and such other emergency meetings as are necessary to consider violations of the Honor Code.

YWCA embodies student leadership in every phase of student life. It begins in the fall by assisting in the orientation program for new students, and carries out many activities during the year. While all the activities of the student YWCA are motivated by its Christian purpose, there are also deeper programs for achievement of deeper understanding and expression of Christian development.

Society of Prospective Teachers

The Society of Prospective Teachers is a club designed to meet the needs of those students interested in education as a career. Although this club was late in being organized, they presented several worth while programs during the second semester. With the aid of their sponsor, Miss Edith G. Hoover, the students learned some of the new methods of teaching as well as proper teaching etiquette. It is hoped that this type of organization will prove beneficial to the Marion College society members.

To care for what is, rather than for what seems . . .

To be loyal to the traditions of the past, yet open to the discoveries of the present and hopes of the future. . .

To find freedom in knowledge of the truth, beauty in the common sphere of daily living, joy in love and friendship, strength in constructive service. . .

To play happily and work honestly. . .

To believe in God and God's children. . .

To serve where service is most needed. . .

This is the ideal of Marion College.

750 Letterheads a Minute . . .

45,000 an hour . . . in two colors! This is what just one of our modern Lithographing presses, shown above, will produce for the progressive businessman. Our twenty-four other presses are designed to give you the best in printing — from business cards to publications such as Magazines, Annual Reports, Yearbooks, Brochures or Calendars. Each order, regardless of size, will get the professional attention necessary to produce quality printing.

Our more than 1,500 type faces and combinations were carefully chosen to give you a well-balanced selection of design and weight for any job. Let our representative and complete Art Department help you plan your next printing job.
